Employee contributions count

The Employee Contribution Campaign is the perfect opportunity for you to show support for your favorite campus initiative or program. Every day, you will witness the results of your giving at work—whether it’s helping to fund a program or a scholarship that will make college possible for a student in need.

Show your support

It’s not the amount of your gift that is important—what matters most is your participation. Corporations and community donors often look at employee participation as an indicator of our strength. Your support sends a strong message to the community by showing your commitment to the College’s mission.
Because your contribution is an important part of the SJR State Foundation, we ask that you decide how you would like your donation spent.
