Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing Frequently Asked Questions

Program Information:

How many nursing classes will I need to complete?

There are ten 3000 and 4000 level nursing courses for 30 credits. Additional coursework may be required to meet general education requirements.

If I hold a previous bachelor's degree, will I have to take non-nursing courses?

There are general education credits and pre-requisite courses required for a Bachelor of Science in Nursing. How many and if any non-nursing courses need to be taken will depend on the general education and pre-requisite courses that you have completed compared to St. Johns River State College's general education and BSN program degree requirements. An academic advisor or BSN Director can help you assess your status. The course requirements are in the College catalog. The link is <https://www.sjrst.edu/catalog/bachelors.pdf>.

Are there any clinicals?

BSN students participate in practice experience hours to meet course requirements. There are two courses with practice experience hours: Community Health and the Capstone course. The practice experience hours are not traditional clinical time performed in a facility but hours spent in virtual software or collaborating with a mentor.

How long does it take to complete the BSN?

Students may select full-time or part-time study. BSN students that pursue full time study should be able to complete the program in three to four semesters. The length of the program for part-time study will depend on the number of courses in which the student enrolls each semester.

Is there a time limit on completing the BSN degree?

All requirements for a Baccalaureate degree at St. Johns River State College must be completed within a period of five (5) consecutive calendar years (15 semesters) from the date of first enrollment in nursing courses after admission to the nursing program.

What happens if I have to drop out for one or more semesters?

Students that withdraw from the RN to BSN program may apply to return to the program.

Are there any classes that require special arrangements?

The Capstone course will have practice experience hours. All courses are Canvas based, so all students will need regular and reliable access to a computer and the Internet to complete course requirements. The computers will need to be compatible with Canvas, have at least a 2007-2010 version of Microsoft Word, have at least a 2007-2010 version of PowerPoint, and current virus protection. There may be other course-specific requirements.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I have to be in an online class on specific dates and times?

The nursing curriculum can be synchronous and asynchronous. Synchronous distance learning occurs when the faculty and the students interact in different places but during the same time. Students enrolled in synchronous courses are generally required to log on to their computer during a set time. Synchronous distance learning may include multimedia components such as group chats, web seminars, video conferencing, and phone call-ins. Asynchronous learning is a student-centered teaching method that uses online learning resources to facilitate information sharing outside the constraints of time and place among a network of people. The student access the course via Canvas at a time convenient for the student. Although there are not specific times to “attend,” there are deadlines that are expected to be met.

Is there a required program orientation before registration?

There is a required online orientation course that must be taken after program admission but prior to course registration. Once the orientation course has been attended, then the student can register for nursing courses.

Are there any courses that have a sequence or have required pre-requisites?

Core courses are taken first. NUR 3805 is a pre-requisite course for all courses, but it may be taken concurrently to courses during the first semester of nursing courses. The core courses lay the foundation for the higher level courses, and it is recommended that they be completed first. Once the core courses are complete, then the two pre-capstone courses would typically be taken. The Capstone course is the last course, and all required nursing courses should be completed prior to the Capstone course. In the Capstone course, students are applying what has been learned throughout the curriculum. Students may take general education courses concurrent to nursing courses.

When should I take statistics (STA 2023)?

You can take statistics at any time, but it is a requirement prior to NUR 3169 Applied Evidence-Based Practice In Professional Nursing Practice. Students that have not completed statistics prior to application to the program may find it beneficial to take statistics the semester just prior to taking NUR 3169.

What support services are available to me during the program?

All of the College’s support services are available to BSN nursing students. Tutoring and student success workshops on select subjects are available on campus and online. For more information visit Tutor.com accessible in your MySJRstate account and <https://www.sjrstate.edu/success.html>.

Do I have to take College Algebra?

The requirement is that the student must have two General Education Math courses. The student is not required to take College Algebra. The student must meet the requirement of college approved or accepted two math courses, meaning that the student would have Statistics and some other math. The two math classes must be general education math courses that are listed in the College Catalog for the A.A. degree. If you have a math class that is a higher level than College Algebra, then that course could be accepted. For example, business math and MAT1033 would not count. College Algebra is the math recommended. Some of the science courses have specific math pre-requisites. You are encourage to review the math pre-requisites for the science course you choose. If you are unsure which math courses to take, it is recommended you speak to an Academic Advisor.

Do I have to take Chemistry?

Any CHM XXXX, BSC XXXX, PCB XXXX, PHY XXXX (other than anatomy and physiology) with a minimum of 3 credit hours may be accepted as the second science.

Are all courses offered every semester?

Technology:

I have never taken an internet-based class? How do I know I can do this?

There are two links on MySJRRstate that take you to general information on online learning. These links address the student characteristics needed to be successful in distance education.

<https://www.sjrrstate.edu/distance.html>

<https://www.sjrrstate.edu/onlinecourses.html>

I have never used Canvas for a class? Where can I get help with this?

For students already registered at St. Johns River State College, there is a student Canvas orientation that is a self-paced online tutorial. The orientation will help the student that is not familiar with Canvas to start a class with basic knowledge of the system. Canvas has several great resources, as well. In every course there is a link to Help. The link is more detailed than the orientation course on Canvas with a searchable feature will take students to questions they may have.

How do we take tests?

Examinations/tests will be administered on-line using Canvas. During the Capstone courses, students will take a standardized test on a college campus using the Internet.

What technology do I need?

The nursing courses use Canvas and Internet access. Basic computer skills and proficiency in use of Canvas are necessary. Students will need reliable and dependable access to the Internet and a computer. Each course is online, with Canvas course requirements, such as assignments for submission, required course reading or viewing assignments, literature searches using the on-line data bases and e-books of the library, and will have course-related assessments that necessitate utilization of a computer with up-to-date virus protection, Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, Adobe Reader, RealPlayer, Adobe Flash (AKA Flash Player), and the College e-mail account. Students will need a headphone with a microphone for selected assignments. The computer will need to be compatible with Canvas, have a current (no older than 2007) version of Microsoft Word and PowerPoint.

Are the internet classes self-paced?

Contrary to many students' assumptions, distance learning courses are not "learn at your own pace" courses. Distance learning course are instructor-led and use the same schedule as on-campus/on-ground courses. The courses require that the student work from written directions without face-to-face instruction and adhering to timelines and due dates. Contrary to many students' assumptions, on-line courses are as challenging as on-ground courses, and the courses require the same amount of time as on-ground courses. Therefore, distance learning courses require students to dedicate at least as much time as on-campus courses. In a course, students have regular reading assignments, information research, written assignments, activities, and discussion questions to complete, all with deadlines explained on the course schedule.

What resources are available to help me improve my knowledge?

The library has both traditional books and many electronic books and journals. Tutor.com is an on-line, on-demand resource for SJR State students.

What do I do if I have problems with my computer?

You will need to contact your own computer technical service for problems within your computer.

Is there IT support for Canvas problems or questions?

Each semester, the College's IT department posts a schedule of hours to provide student assistance. Typically, the hours are within a standard business day. Distance Learning/Open Campus staff are also available during conventional business day hours.

If I still have program technology questions, where can I get more information on the program technology?

The College's IT department can provide assistance for Canvas and technology questions at 1-386-312-4142. Staff is also available at Distance Learning/Open Campus to aid students at 1-386-312-4211.
