Pollinator WEEK

Pollinators: Color from the Eye of the Bee-holder

Tuesday, June 21

11:30 a.m.

St. Johns River State College
Palatka Campus
Valhalla Hall (Building A)

*The event is free and open to the public.
Attendees are encouraged to bring their lunch or order from the campus food service, the LunchBox.*

Every creature has a different way of seeing the world. Pollinators see the world in a much more diverse way than we humans do. From bees to hummingbirds, learn how these different pollinators see color and examples of the kinds of flowers they are attracted to.

A Q&A will follow.

Presented by Horticulture Agent Julio Perez of the UF-IFAS Extension Putnam County.

This is an initiative of the Tree Campus program.
